Henri Cartier-Bresson, 1960

Learning goals:

This course is an introduction to the history and aesthetics of still photography and to the concept of photography as a descriptive and interpretive artistic medium. Students studying photographs in this context will discover relationships between individual photographers' choices and their own understanding of meaning.

Students will learn the fundamental concepts necessary to shoot, edit, manipulate, and print digital still photographs, and acquire the knowledge needed to analyze and critique existing work. Students will be required to use their own digital still cameras for this course. Upon completion, students should be able to:

Identify the major turning points in history of photography, understand framing and composition and how to communicate with design. Apply the fundamentals of cameras, lenses, exposure, filters, and scanners, and using the correct storage technology.

Demonstrate the basics of exposure, using a gray card, the interpretation of light, observation of action, line and depth, and the use of the camera as an instrument of imagination.

Show evidence of an increased insight into seeing with and through a camera; awareness of the affect of color tone; a beginning understanding of perspective, and an ability to think, speak, and write in photographic terms.

Be able to transfer image files for display, manage the basic functions of Photoshop®, gain some insight into the best practices of sharing and archiving images.

Prerequisites: None.

Assignments

To do well on these creative assignments you should adopt a mindset of thinking about images and always have your camera with you.

Week 1 - 29 Mar.

Lecture (Keynote presentation on Digital Photography).

Read and be prepared to discuss the two essays posted on D2L, "Nora Ephron: Prophet of Privacy," and, "The Most Famous Story We Never Told."

Get started on the class blog, "<http://dc125spring2016.blogspot.com/>"

Screening, "La Jetée."

Homework:

Bring in cameras and manuals next week.

Read Hirsch, Chapter 1, "Why We Make Pictures: A Concise History of Visual Ideas." Pick one of the questions which appear starting on p. 18, with, "How does one become a photographer," ending on p. 28, with, "Can creative efforts in other fields inspire your work?" Be prepared to discuss all the questions, not just your own.

Read your camera manual, we will learn to use the settings on your own camera, first.

Week 2 - 5 Apr.

Discussion of Hirsch, Chapter 1, the questions which appear starting on p. 18. Every student will present.

Choose shooting partners, and shoot the same portrait with different framings, and different backgrounds, and compare.

Setting up image import. Basic Photoshop© tools.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter 2, "Design: Visual foundations."

1Assignment #1 (due 12 Apr.) - Shoot a face in natural light, framing it in such a way as to demonstrate the principle of, "Balance," as described in pp. 44-46 of Hirsch.

Think about sky- or sun-light conditions through windows, out in the world, going to work or class, or at a particular place. Think about what you are going to photograph before you shoot.

No flash, no lights, no photographs from moving vehicles, including public transportation. Pick your best 5 photos, burn them to a flash drive and bring to class or upload to the class blog by 19 Apr.

Week 3 - 12 Apr.

Guest speaker (John Olsen). Discussion of Hirsch, Chapter 2, "Design: Visual foundations."

Assignment #1 due, view and discuss.

Lecture, Chapter 3 (Hirsch), "Image Capture: Cameras, lenses, and Scanners."

Optical & digital zoom, white balance, maintenance, storing digital images.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter Four, "Exposure and Filters."

2Assignment #2 (due 19 Apr.) - Bracketed monumental pictures. Review Hirsch on the principles of, "Exposure Bracketing," as described on p. 132 of the text.

Then choose a massive object, using the cityscape, like a building, a monument, or other massive object (like a crane or other stationary vehicle), and photograph it using three different exposures: a balanced exposure, and two more shots of the same subject a half-f-stop below and a half-f-stop above your optimum exposure.

No flash, no artificial light. No shooting from cars or the el.

Pick your best 5 photos, burn them to a flash drive and bring to class or upload to the class blog by 3 May.

Week 4 - 19 Apr.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter Four, “Exposure and Filters.”

Project #2 due, view and discuss.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter Five, “Interpreting the Light.”

Week 5 - 26 Apr.

Guest speaker, Taylor Castle.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 5, “Interpreting the Light.”

Time of day, types of light. Class will leave the classroom and shoot around the school.

Photoshop©: Image adjustments, color, levels, saturation, white balance.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapters 6 & 7, “Eyes Wide Open,” and, “Thinking and Writing about Images.”

³Assignment #3 (due 10 May) - Retouching I. Choose any two photos from your first 2 assignments, retouch and modify them using Photoshop©, and explain what you did. Burn the 2 originals and the 2 modified versions to CD and bring them to class May 10th.

(Quiz following week).

Week 6 - 3 May.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 6, Chapters 6 & 7, “Eyes Wide Open,” and, “Thinking and Writing about Images.”

Mid-term quiz.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter 7, “Space, Imagination, and the Camera.”

⁴Assignment #4 (due 17 May) - Portrait collage. Shoot portraits of people you know, and strangers on the street.

These can be candid or produced, but are to be presented in a collage of separate images, unified by color, line, tone, or compositional elements based on the Hirsch chapter on, “Time, Space, Imagination, and the Camera,” pp. 223-228.

Pick your best 13 photos, arrange them in Photoshop©, save them as PDFs, burn them to a flash drive and bring to class or upload to the class blog by 24 May.

Week 7 - 10 May.

Guest speaker, Michael Sterling.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 7, “Space, Imagination, and the Camera.”

Project #3 due, view and discuss.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter 8, “Digital Studio: Where the Virtual Meets the Material World.”

Week 8 - 17 May.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 8, “Digital Studio: Where the Virtual Meets the Material World.”

Project #4 due, view and discuss.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter 9, “Presentation and Preservation.”

Week 9 - 24 May.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 9, “Presentation and Preservation.”

Photoshop©: clone stamp tool, image removal, masks.

Homework:

Read Hirsch, Chapter 10, “Seeing with a Camera.”

⁵Assignment #5 (due 31 May) - Retouching II. Choose one of your portraits from your already-completed Assignment #4 and do a full makeover using Photoshop©. Save the original and the makeover as a PDF, burn them to a flash drive and bring to class or upload to the class blog by 31 May.

Week 10 - 31 May.

Discuss Hirsch, Chapter 10, “Seeing With a Camera.”

⁶Assignment # 6 - (due 7 Jun.) - Photo Sequence. Shoot 3-6 images of any subject or style. Each essay photo should continue in some way to the next.

There must be a throughline- a common thread of technique, light, subject, or location that enhances the form itself, whether it be portraiture, nature or natural light compositions, art coverage like still life or landscape, journalism, or any combinations eclectically demonstrating what you’ve learnt from the course. Due in class 7 Jun.

(Quiz following week).

Week 11 - 7 Jun.

Chapter(s) 11 & 12, “Solutions: Thinking and Writing About Images,” and, “Photographer On Assignment.”

Project #6 due, view & discuss.

Final quiz.

Rules of the Road.

Participation is being active and prepared, with memory, images, and on task in class.

No late assignments accepted, and may only be made up in cases of emergency.

Two unexcused absences allowed. Assignments missed due to unexcused absence are not accepted. Additional absences deduct a class letter grade from students' total.

Course Policies as Suggested by the Dean of Students Office:

Late submissions of assignments or (online) class participation notes:

No late submissions of any assigned work will be accepted.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism:

This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at <http://academicintegrity.depaul.edu/>. If you have any questions be sure to consult with your professor.

Academic Policies:

All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at: cdm.depaul.edu/enrollment.

Attendance:

Students are expected to attend each class and to remain for the duration. Coming 15 minutes late or leaving 15 minutes early constitutes an absence for the student. The overall grade for participation drops one-third after any absence. Three absences for any reason, whether excused or not, may constitute failure for the course.

Attitude:

A professional and academic attitude is expected throughout this course. Measurable examples of non-academic or unprofessional attitude include but are not limited to: talking to others when the instructor is speaking, mocking another's opinion, cell phones ringing, emailing, texting or using the internet whether on a phone or computer. If any issues arise a student may be asked to leave the classroom. The professor will work with the Dean of Students Office to navigate such student issues.

Cell Phones/On Call:

If you bring a cell phone to class, it must be off or set to a silent mode. Should you need to answer a call during class, students must leave the room in an undistruptive manner. Out of respect to fellow students and the professor, texting is never allowable in class. If you are required to be on call as part of your job, please advise me at the start of the course.

Civil Discourse:

DePaul University is a community that thrives on open discourse that challenges students, both intellectually and personally, to be Socially Responsible Leaders. It is the expectation that all dialogue in this course is civil and respectful of the dignity of each student. Any instances of disrespect or hostility can jeopardize a student's ability to be successful in the course. The professor will partner with the Dean of Students Office to assist in managing such issues.

Class Discussion:

Student participation in class discussions will be measured in two ways. First, students are highly encouraged to ask questions and offer comments relevant to the day's topic. Participation allows the instructor to "hear" the student's voice when grading papers. Secondly, students will be called upon by the instructor to offer comments related to the reading assignments. Students must keep up with the reading to participate in class discussion.

Online Course Evaluations:

Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students do not receive reminders once they complete the evaluation. Students complete the evaluation online in CampusConnect.

Students with Disabilities:

Students who feel they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the instructor privately to discuss their specific needs. All discussions will remain confidential.

To ensure that you receive the most appropriate accommodation based on your needs, contact the instructor as early as possible in the quarter (preferably within the first week of class), and make sure that you have contacted the Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) at:
