Learning Outcomes: In DC 420, students will:

2. Learn how to control story and character development through editing.
3. Learn how to apply these techniques in NLE software.
4. Gain an understanding of techniques editors use in experimental film, dialogue, documentary, animation, television, etc.
5. Be able to effectively understand the technical ins and outs of Post-Production as it applies to workflows and delivery.

Recommended Texts:

Make the Cut: A Guide to Becoming a Successful Assistant Editor in Film & TV, Lori Coleman & Diana Friedberg, Focal Press, 2010.

Cut by Cut: Editing Your Film or Video, 2nd Ed., Gael Chandler, Michael Wiese Productions, 2012.

Required Supplies:

All our class exercises and home assignments deal with projects and media. It is the responsibility of the student to back up all projects & media. Do not leave your projects on the lab computers. Please note: hardware problems are not acceptable as an excuse for late submissions.

You must have your own external drive for your project work. A USB 3.0 or Thunderbolt is recommended and ideally your drive should run 7200 rpm. Some of the new computers no longer support Firewire. If you have a Firewire drive, you will need a Thunderbolt adapter.

A USB flash drive is also recommended for project back ups. Do not use flash drives as your main media drive.

To be able to work on both Mac and PC with your external drives, I highly recommend formatting your external drive to ExFAT. If you will only be using the drive on Macs then Mac OS Extended (Journaled) is fine.

Grading Scale

A = 100-93, A- = 92-90, B+ = 89-87, B = 86-83, B- = 82- 80, C+ = 79-77, C = 76-73, C- = 72-70, D+ = 69-67, D = 66-63, D- = 62-60, F = 59-0.

A indicates excellence, B indicates good work, C indicates satisfactory work, D work is unsatisfactory in some respect, F is substantially unsatisfactory work

Grading:

Project 1 20%

Project 2 20%

Project 3 10%

Article Reviews 10%

Editor Research Paper / Walter Murch Paper 20%

Midterm 10%

Final Exam 10%

Student responsibilities:

Each student is responsible for their time management and for meeting the expectations in the syllabus. The instructor is not responsible for reminding students of assignment deadlines in class. In the event of an absence, you are still responsible for completing the assignment on time.

Deadlines:

Cinema production requires strict adherence to deadlines; therefore late assignments will not be accepted for grading and written feedback will be given at the instructor's discretion. You will not be eligible for an A in the class unless you turn in all assignments on time.

Attendance & Participation:

Students are expected to attend each class and to remain for the duration. Coming 15 minutes late or leaving early constitutes an absence for the student. If you miss a class, you will be deducted 5 points from your final grade. For example, if you miss five classes, you will be deducted 25 points from your final grade.

Article Reviews, Class Discussion:

There will be five reading assignments from articles that I assign. You will read the article and write a one to two page review highlighting the most interesting points of the articles and what you thought about what was discussed. We will discuss the articles in class so you can use your review for the discussion. Students are highly encouraged to ask questions and offer comments relevant to the day's topic. The written review is graded so proofread the article before turning it in.

Please double space and follow MLA general guidelines for formatting. Upload these assignments to the D2L Dropbox for that particular article.

320 - Editor Research Project

Undergrads will choose an editor to research and write a four-page minimum, double-spaced, typed paper about them and their work. If you don't know any editors, look at your favorite films and you'll find someone worth researching. For this assignment, you are going to research the background of the editor and find out how they got into post production. Then you will watch one film edited by your chosen editor and analyze the techniques you think they utilized to build the story. You can concentrate on things like how they used experimental techniques, or their ability to create strong dialogue sequences, or they're great at intense action sequences. I will give you more specific information for the assignment.

420 - Walter Murch textbook & Paper:

Graduate students will read the Walter Murch book, In the Blink of an Eye. After reading the book you will watch one of the films he has edited and then see if you can apply some of his theories to his own work. I will give you more specific information for the assignment.

Editing Assignments:

Footage for the first and third assignments is available via a link on D2L. For the second project, you will need to get the footage from me. You will be editing the footage in Adobe Premiere. You may also use Avid Media Composer, if you prefer. Please discuss this with me before you begin editing.

You will be turning in Premiere Project Files and QuickTime files. Project Files can be uploaded to D2L. Please submit QTs via wetransfer.com. WeTransfer sends you a receipt when the file has uploaded successfully and when I have downloaded it. I will have a Dropbox link on D2L to upload QTs as well, but please use this as a last resort. QTs have to be under 1gb for D2L and under 2gb for WeTransfer. Always bring a back-up copy to class on a drive.

Midterm:

The Midterm will consist of short answers and an essay based on class presentations and homework.

Final Exam:

The Final will consist of multiple choice, T/F questions on Premiere, short answers, and an essay based on class presentations from the last half of the quarter and ideas presented throughout the quarter.

Online Course Evaluations:

Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students complete the evaluation online in CampusConnect.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism:

This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at <http://academicintegrity.depaul.edu/>. If you have any questions be sure to consult with your professor.

Attitude:

A professional and academic attitude is expected throughout this course. Measurable examples of non-academic or unprofessional attitude include but are not limited to: talking to others when the instructor is speaking, mocking another's opinion, cell phones ringing, emailing, texting, or using the internet whether on a phone or computer. If any issues arise, a student may be asked to leave the classroom. The professor will work with the Dean of Students Office to navigate such student issues.

Computers/Cell Phones/On Call:

If you bring a cell phone to class, it must be off or set to a silent mode. Should you need to answer a call during class, students must leave the room in an undistruptive manner. Out of respect to fellow students and the professor, texting is never allowable in class. If you are required to be on call as part of your job, please advise me at the start of the course.

Academic Policies:

All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at: cdm.depaul.edu/enrollment.

Students with Disabilities:

Students who feel they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the instructor privately to discuss their specific needs. All discussions will remain confidential. To ensure that you receive the most appropriate accommodation based on your needs, contact the instructor as early as possible in the quarter (preferably within the first week of class), and make sure that you have contacted the Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) at: csd@depaul.edu.
