Instructor: Camille DeBose, MA, MFA

- Online: Asynchronous
- Office hours: Virtual hours available by appointment (schedule through Blue Star)
- E:mail: cdebose@depaul.edu
- Skype: Camille S DeBose
- This course will be managed via: D2L

Course Description

This course will introduce students to the art of cinema. Through lectures, videos, screenings, discussions, and exploration of contemporary and classic films, students will gain an understanding of the various roles involved in the making of movies. This course covers direction, acting, producing, screenwriting, cinematography, production design, editing, sound, as well as the stages of production all introduced through the words of Sidney Lumet.

Course Objectives and Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will be able to analyze and discuss the various stages and processes necessary for constructing great films in any genre. Students will also be able to apply lecture topics to analyze cinematic arts in terms of style, technique, and visual communication. Students will demonstrate comprehension through discussion, analysis, writing, and examination.

Learning Domain

This course has Arts&Literature Liberal Studies Credit. Courses in the Arts and Literature domain ask students to extend their knowledge and experience of the arts while developing their critical and reflective abilities. In these courses, students interpret and analyze particular creative works, investigate the relations of form and meaning, and through critical and/or creative activity, come to better understand the original audience that witnessed a work of art and how its meaning and significance changes over time. These courses focus on works of art or literature, however the process of analysis may include social, cultural, and historical issues. Genres covered in this domain include literature, the visual arts, media arts, the performing arts, music, and theater. (you will find the full LSP outcomes and expectations below)

Communication

Each module contains a special discussion board for Questions. Should you need any assistance during the week you can post your questions there and get a response most often within 24 hours unless you post during the weekend. You are also welcome to use e-mail.

All feedback for your assignments is posted in the text boxes of the individual assignment feedback forms. You will be able to access your feedback immediately upon an assignment being graded. I recommend getting closely acquainted with your rubrics for this course. Your grading and feedback are closely aligned to those rubrics. Grading for each assignment will be completed within 10 days of submission. Shorter assignments like discussions are graded quickly, while more complex assignments like the film analysis may take closer to the ten day mark to ensure time for meaningful feedback for all students.

Online Course Evaluations

Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students do not receive reminders once they complete the evaluation. Students complete the evaluation online in CampusConnect.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at <http://academicintegrity.depaul.edu/>. If you have any questions be sure to consult me.

Academic Policies

All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at: http:// www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/PoliciesandProcedures.aspx

Students with Disabilities

Students who feel they may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the instructor privately to discuss their specific needs. All discussions will remain confidential.

To ensure that you receive the most appropriate accommodation based on your needs, contact the instructor as early as possible in the quarter (preferably within the first week of class), and make sure that you have contacted the Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) at: csd@depaul.edu.

Liberal Studies Program

Learning Outcomes and Writing Expectations

ARTS AND LITERATURE

Approved by the Liberal Studies Council, Winter 2012

Learning Outcomes:

1. Students will be able to explain, in well-written prose, what a work of art is about and/or how it was produced (i.e. they should be able to articulate and explain the "content" of that work and/or its methodology of production).
2. Students will be able to comment on the relationship between form and content in a work. How does the 14-line sonnet both enable and inhibit its practitioner, for example? What are the generic expectations of a particular form? How does an artist complicate, enrich, or subvert such expectations?
3. Students will be able to assess the formal aspects of their subject and put those qualities into words, using, when appropriate, specialized vocabulary employed in class and readings.
4. Students will be able to contextualize a work of art. They will be able to do so with respect to other works of art in terms of defining its place within a broader style or genre. They will also be able to contextualize a work of art in terms of contemporaneous aesthetic, social, or political concerns, discussing how these might shape the work's reception and how that reception might differ amongst various peoples and historical periods.

Writing Expectations:

A minimum of 5-7 pages of writing for courses in the Arts and Literature domain (including studio courses) is required.
