

POST 120: Audio Podcasting and other Media

Course Description

This course is an introduction to the uses and practical applications of sound for multimedia. Students will study various uses of sound and music on the Internet from creative to professional websites. Using free or inexpensive hardware and software, students will learn to create and edit podcasts and attach audio files to programs and web pages such as Facebook, iTunes, Keynote, PowerPoint and other sites. The course will cover both Mac and PC applications so all students will be able to work on projects from their home computers. The course will also cover current legalities of digital media.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Assess the strengths and weaknesses of various podcasts in terms of its technical and storytelling aspects.
- Record clean, professional-sounding dialogue at home using a USB microphone.
- Edit, mix, and export professional, Internet-ready original podcasts.
- Successfully navigate the basic functions of recording and editing software.
- Upload and create an original podcast feed using podcast aggregators.
- Have a basic understanding of the mechanics behind how sound works, and what effect that has upon recording dialog for podcasts.

Learning Outcomes

DC 113: Audio Podcasting & Other Media is included in the Liberal Studies program as a course with credit in the Arts and Literature domain. Courses in the Arts and Literature domain ask students to extend their knowledge and experience of the arts by developing their critical and reflective abilities. In these courses, students interpret and analyze particular creative works, investigate the relations of form and meaning and through critical and/or creative activity to come to experience art with greater openness, insight, and enjoyment. These courses focus on works of literature, art, theatre, or music as such, though the process of analysis may also include social and cultural issues. Students who take course in this domain choose three courses from such choices as literature, the visual arts, media arts, music, and theater. No more than two courses can be chosen from one department or program.

In DC 113 Students Will:

- Listen to a variety of podcasts and analyze them in terms of quality style, format and Genre
- Learn how to operate a USB microphone and utilized a DAW (Digital Audio Workstation)
- Investigate current trends in Digital Rights Management, P2P Networking, Internet Privacy/Regulation, Copyright, and Intellectual Property Rights
- Write, record, and edit several original podcasts that will demonstrate effective storytelling and technical expertise
- Learn the role of audio and podcasts in social media, presentations, and online feeds

How Learning Outcomes Will Be Met

1. Papers 1-2 focus upon the analysis of a variety of podcasts in order to understand what makes the podcasts work in terms of: Content, Style, format, and genre. This will help improve the quality of the podcast that is created within the class.
2. Projects 1-6 will be staged with varying length to incorporate the techniques required for creating a professional quality podcast. This includes covering the process of: Editing dialog, balancing the mix, utilizing plugins (EQ, Compression, Noise Removal), and the practicality of microphone placement for recording. Through the continued refinement of their podcast the student will gain competency in the art of storytelling and working with a Digital Audio Workstation.
3. Paper 5 is a research paper that is assigned with the topic of trends in digital media. This topic is broad in order to urge an understanding of the current issues with Intellectual property, piracy, copyright, and the status of the Internet.

Writing Expectations

The papers will adhere to MLA format for writing style. The research paper (Paper 5) will require proper citation; grammar and syntax will be graded accordingly.

How Writing Expectations Will Be Met

Papers 1 - 3 are response papers. They are required for the student to begin to think critically about podcasts. Through writing about the podcasts the student will learn to understand how they work, and use that analysis to improve their own recordings.

Paper 4 is the research paper for the class. This paper requires MLA citation and is put in place for the student to understand issues surrounding: Intellectual Property, Copyright, Digital Rights Management, and the status of the Internet. This will help foster an understanding of the complexities of podcasting, digital media, and the impact legislation may have upon Fair Use Copyright protection.

Course Policies

Changes to Syllabus

This syllabus is subject to change as necessary during the quarter. If a change occurs, it will be thoroughly addressed during class, posted under Announcements in D2L and sent via email.

Online Course Evaluations

Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students do not receive reminders once they complete the evaluation. Please see <https://resources.depaul.edu/teaching-commons/teaching/Pages/online-teaching-evaluations.aspx> for additional information.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at <https://resources.depaul.edu/teaching-commons/teaching/academic-integrity/Pages/default.aspx>.

Academic Policies

All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at: <http://www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/PoliciesandProcedures.aspx>

Incomplete Grades

An incomplete grade is a special, temporary grade that may be assigned by an instructor when unforeseeable circumstances prevent a student from completing course requirements by the end of the term and when otherwise the student had a record of satisfactory progress in the course. All incomplete requests must be approved by the instructor of the course and a CDM Associate Dean. Only exceptions cases will receive such approval. Information about the Incomplete Grades policy can be found at <http://www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/Grading-Policies.aspx>

Preferred Name & Gender Pronouns

Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, culture, religion, politics, sexual orientation, gender, gender variance, and nationalities. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the quarter so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. Please also note that students may choose to identify within the University community with a preferred first name that differs from their legal name and may also update their gender. The preferred first name will appear in University related systems and documents except where the use of the legal name is necessitated or required by University business or legal need. For more information and instructions on how to do so, please see the Student Preferred Name and Gender Policy at <http://policies.depaul.edu/policy/policy.aspx?pid=332>

Students with Disabilities

Students seeking disability-related accommodations are required to register with DePaul's Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) enabling them to access accommodations and support services to assist with their success. There are two office locations:

- Loop Campus – Lewis Center #1420 – (312) 362-8002
- Lincoln Park Campus – Student Center #370 – (773) 325-1677

Students who register with the Center for Students with Disabilities are also invited to contact Dr. Gergory Moorhead, Director of the Center, privately to discuss how he may assist in facilitating the accommodations to be used in a course. This is best done early in the term. The conversation will remain confidential to the extent possible.

Please see <https://offices.depaul.edu/student-affairs/about/departments/Pages/csd.aspx> for Services and Contact Information.

College Policies

Learning Outcomes:

Learning Outcomes and Writing Expectations ARTS AND LITERATURE

1. Students will be able to explain, in well-written prose, what a work of art is about and/or how it was produced (i.e. they should be able to articulate and explain the “content” of that work and/or its methodology of production).
2. Students will be able to comment on the relationship between form and content in a work. How does the 14-line sonnet both enable and inhibit its practitioner, for example? What are the generic expectations of a particular form? How does an artist complicate, enrich, or subvert such expectations?
3. Students will be able to assess the formal aspects of their subject and put those qualities into words, using, when appropriate, specialized vocabulary employed in class and readings.
4. Students will be able to contextualize a work of art. They will be able to do so with respect to other works of art in terms of defining its place within a broader style or genre. They will also be able to contextualize a work of art in terms of contemporaneous aesthetic, social, or political concerns, discussing how these might shape the work’s reception and how that reception might differ amongst various peoples and historical periods.

Writing Expectations:

A minimum of 5-7 pages of writing for courses in the Arts and Literature domain (including studio courses) is required.
