

FILM 281 The Art of Screen Acting

"The actor must recreate his work, each time he repeats his part, with sincerity, truth, and directness. It is only on that condition that he will be able to free his art from mechanical and stereotyped acting, from "tricks" and all forms of artificiality. If he accomplishes this, he will have real people and real life all around him on the stage, and living art which has been purified from all debasing elements."

Konstantin Stanislavski

Course Catalogue Description

This course will examine the role of acting, actors, and actor-director collaboration in the development of narrative cinema. The screen demanded a new approach to acting that differed markedly from the theatrical traditions that preceded it. Seminal practitioners of actor training such as Constantin Stanislavski and his American interpreters Lee Strasberg, Sanford Meisner, and Stella Adler and their students (such as Brando, Pacino, DeNiro, Hoffman, and Duvall) have had an incalculable influence on how screen actors prepare for a role and work with directors. This course will survey the major acting techniques and approaches, examine major films as case studies, and explore contemporary approaches to screen acting and actor-director collaboration in the cinema. This course carries Liberal Studies Arts and Literature Domain Credit.

Arts and Literature Domain Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to explain, in well-written prose, variations in acting technique and the influence the form has on the art of narrative cinema. Students will understand the psychological, physical, social factors that influence the practice of acting. Writing in the class focuses on students' understanding of Acting Technique, Key Practitioners, and On-screen Performance.

Students will be able to comment directly on how the acting form relates to the content that appears on screen. They will learn the expectations of acting in film, explore what makes a "good or bad" acting performance, and examine how the acting choices influence audience interpretation of character and the character's intent. This framework will allow them to delve deeper into nuanced impact on character, tension, story, and theme.

We will examine these relationships through in-class discussions, short writing assignments, and a longer final paper. To truly understand the craft, students will learn the techniques of global practitioners and utilize them during lab sessions. Students will prepare their own theatrical scenes which they will present to the class as actors. They will also direct scenes and craft a short film utilizing the knowledge they've gained to create a permanent record of their work.

Students will be able to assess the formal aspects of their subject and put these qualities into words, using, when appropriate, specialized vocabulary employed in class and readings. To better equip them in their analysis of Acting on Screen students will learn a mix of common cinematic and literary language in addition to specialized filmmaking and acting vernacular. This language will be employed in class discussions, exams, and papers.

Where appropriate, students will be able to consider the original audience to witness a work of art and consider how their expectations differ from our own. This examination may include the elements of form, rhythm, and style as well as the visual materials and aesthetics of its time. Students will be able to articulate a subject as well as write about it, explaining how narrative and aesthetic elements comprise a particular style of acting. Students will learn about the context in which each performance was crafted and how this context affected its original reception. Students will also learn about the craft of acting, and how it has evolved over time and the influences shaping the art form today.

Arts and Literature Learning Domain Objectives

Students who successfully complete the Arts and Literature requirement will be able to:

- ◆ Explain, in well-written prose, what a work of art is about and how it was produced (i.e. they should be able to articulate and explain the "content" of that work and its methodology of production).
- ◆ Comment on the relationship between form and content in a work.
  - How does the 14-line sonnet both enable and inhibit its practitioner, for example?
  - What are the generic expectations of a particular form?
  - How does an artist complicate, enrich, or subvert such expectations?
- ◆ Assess the formal aspects of their subject and put those qualities into words, using, when appropriate, specialized vocabulary employed in class and readings.
- ◆ Contextualize a work of art.
  - Do so with respect to other works of art in terms of defining its place within a broader style or genre.

- Contextualize a work of art in terms of contemporaneous aesthetic, social, or political concerns, discussing how these might shape the work's reception and how that reception might differ amongst various peoples and historical periods.

OVERVIEW OF MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS/EXAMS

Information regarding assignment requirements and expectations will be posted on D2L.

- Discussion Board Responses and Required Reading

You will be required to write discussion prompts that relate to the lecture and reading materials at four times throughout the term. Prompts are due within the timeframe they are assigned. You will acquire your discussion points through your active participation and your familiarity with the material you've studied. Read the Discussion Board Assessment prior to writing a prompt.

- Quizzes

Quizzes will test your knowledge of key concepts from the Engagement Activities.

- Case Study Assignment

Based on Merlin's description of the four socio-cultural identities that actors adopt: the magician, storyteller, healer and social changer, write a 2 - 3 page case study about yourself within that context as if you were an actor. Would you consider yourself a magician, storyteller, healer or social changer? Or, choose your favorite actor and explain how you would categorize them as either a magician, storyteller, healer or social changer. Use cited examples from their body of films. Review Tips for Writing a Great Paper prior to submission. To receive maximum credit, you must cite your sources and include a Works Cited page.

- Midterm Exam

The midterm exam will cover all Engagement Activities and quizzes from modules 1 – 5. A study guide can be found in Module 5 under Engagement Activities. This exam will use the Respondus/LockDown/Monitor Browser proctoring application. After the exam is complete, instructors have access to a report that shows any students with any flagged issues. Instructors are able to review the reports and associated recordings to determine if a violation occurred.

- Assessments are displayed full-screen and cannot be minimized.
- Browser menu and toolbar options are removed, except for Back, Forward, Refresh and Stop.
- Prevents access to other applications including messaging, screen-sharing, virtual machines, and remote desktops.
- Printing and screen capture functions are disabled.
- Copying and pasting anything to or from an assessment is prevented.

- Right-click menu options, function keys, keyboard shortcuts and task switching are disabled.
  - An assessment cannot be exited until the student submits it for grading.
- Non-Verbal Acting Exercise
In this assignment you will improvise a scene alone, with no dialogue, based on one of the two scenarios outlined on D2L. This exercise will demonstrate your understanding of the key concepts of given circumstances, emotional preparation.
  - Journaling
The basis of this class is understanding the art of screen acting which has a foundation in experiential learning. This class requires you to engage mentally, physically, and emotionally, while turning off that part of your brain that “judges” and “analyzes” what you do. In order for you to fully comprehend the process you are learning; you must take time to engage that part of your brain that can sift through and analyze the process. This reflection, or journaling, will bring you to a greater level of understanding of how an actor approaches physical and vocal training and your own process toward appreciating the craft.
  - Everyday Action Exercise
In this assignment you will improvise a scene alone, with no dialogue, based on an everyday action outlined on D2L. This exercise will build on the Non-Verbal Exercise and demonstrate your understanding of the key concepts of script analysis, including: given circumstances, action/ intention and obstacles, and emotional preparation.
  - Monologue Performance and Scene Analysis (Final Exam Choice #1)
There are two parts to this assignment, performing a monologue and monologue analysis. You will be choosing a monologue from a film script or play that is close to your age range and type. You will be creating a character biography and analyzing the given circumstances of the scene as outlined in Module 9 under Engagement Activities. This exercise will demonstrate your understanding of the key concepts learned throughout the quarter in performance and script analysis.
  - Actor/Director Technique Final Paper (Final Exam Choice #2)
Students will be responsible for a 5 - 7 page final paper thoroughly examining the body of work and artistic technique of an established actor or director. The paper will analyze multiple works of the selected practitioner, the training and techniques utilized in their creation and the evolution of the artist’s skillset. Students are expected to comment on what makes these practitioners exemplary in their field and how their techniques enrich the final product on screen. For example, what does the actor use to bring the character to life beyond just reading the line and performing the required action? What limitations or restrictions may have driven or hindered the actor/director from achieving a particular performance? Analysis should be based on research, course readings, discussion board posts and personal insight.

Course Content

The content, lectures, and discussion in this course may deal with the legacy of sexism, racism, and other forms of social violence. I will note especially graphic/intense content and will do my best to foster a classroom in which we can relate courageously, compassionately, and contemplatively with difficult and important content each week.

Changes to Syllabus

This syllabus is subject to change as necessary during the quarter. If a change occurs, it will be thoroughly addressed during class, posted under Announcements in D2L and sent via email.

COVID-19 Health and Safety Precautions

Keeping our DePaul community safe is of utmost importance in the pandemic. Students, faculty and staff are expected to (1) wear a mask as required at all times while indoors on campus; (2) refrain from eating and drinking in classrooms; (3) keep current with their COVID-19 vaccinations or exemptions; (4) stay home if sick; (5) participate in any required COVID-19 testing; (6) complete the online Health and Safety Guidelines for Returning to Campus training; and (7) abide by the City of Chicago Emergency Travel Advisory. Students who have a medical reason for not complying with any requirements should register with DePaul's Center for Student with Disabilities (CSD).

Respect for Diversity and Inclusion at DePaul University as aligned with our Vincentian Values

At DePaul, our mission calls us to explore “what must be done” in order to respect the inherent dignity and identity of each human person. We value diversity because it is part of our history, our traditions and our future. We see diversity as an asset and a strength that adds to the richness of classroom learning. In my course, I strive to include diverse authors, perspectives and teaching pedagogies. I also encourage open dialogue and spaces for students to express their unique identities and perspectives. I am open to having difficult conversations and I will strive to create an inclusive classroom that values all perspectives. If at any time, the classroom experience does not live up to this expectation, please feel free to contact me via email or during office hours.

In the wake of recent national conversations around anti-Black racism, sexual violence, the immigration crisis, and the impact of the pandemic on marginalized people, I am more awake to the systemic inequities and injustices in our institutions, including DePaul University and the College of Computing and Digital Media, where I teach and serve. I recognize the rich diversity of our campus community and seek to offer all members of my class an equitable, inclusive, welcoming, secure, responsive and affirming environment that fosters mutual respect, empathy and trust.

Preferred Name & Gender Pronouns

Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with differences of race, culture, religion, politics, sexual orientation, gender, gender variance, and nationalities. I will gladly honor your request to address you by an alternate name or gender pronoun. Please advise me of this preference early in the quarter so that I may make appropriate changes to my records. Please also note that students may choose to identify within the University community with a preferred first name that differs from their legal name and may also update their gender. The preferred first name will appear in University related systems and documents except where the use of the legal name is necessitated or required by University business or legal need. For more information and instructions on how to do so, please see the Student Preferred Name and Gender Policy at <http://policies.depaul.edu/policy/policy.aspx?pid=332>.

Online Course Evaluations

Evaluations are a way for students to provide valuable feedback regarding their instructor and the course. Detailed feedback will enable the instructor to continuously tailor teaching methods and course content to meet the learning goals of the course and the academic needs of the students. They are a requirement of the course and are key to continue to provide you with the highest quality of teaching. The evaluations are anonymous; the instructor and administration do not track who entered what responses. A program is used to check if the student completed the evaluations, but the evaluation is completely separate from the student's identity. Since 100% participation is our goal, students are sent periodic reminders over three weeks. Students do not receive reminders once they complete the evaluation. Please see <https://resources.depaul.edu/teaching-commons/teaching/Pages/online-teaching-evaluations.aspx> for additional information.

Academic Integrity and Plagiarism

This course will be subject to the university's academic integrity policy. More information can be found at <https://resources.depaul.edu/teaching-commons/teaching/academic-integrity/Pages/default.aspx>.

Posting work on online sites, such as Hero

All students are expected to abide by the University's Academic Integrity Policy which prohibits cheating and other misconduct in student coursework. Publicly sharing or posting online any prior or current materials from this course (including exam questions or answers), is considered to be providing unauthorized assistance prohibited by the policy. Both students who share/post and students who access or use such materials are considered to be cheating under the Policy and will be subject to sanctions for violations of Academic Integrity.

Academic Policies

All students are required to manage their class schedules each term in accordance with the deadlines for enrolling and withdrawing as indicated in the University Academic Calendar. Information on enrollment, withdrawal, grading and incompletes can be found at: <http://www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/PoliciesandProcedures.aspx>

Incomplete Grades

An incomplete grade is a special, temporary grade that may be assigned by an instructor when unforeseeable circumstances prevent a student from completing course requirements by the end of the term and when otherwise the student had a record of satisfactory progress in the course. All incomplete requests must be approved by the instructor of the course and a CDM Associate Dean. Only exceptions cases will receive such approval. Information about the Incomplete Grades policy can be found at <http://www.cdm.depaul.edu/Current%20Students/Pages/Grading-Policies.aspx>

Students with Disabilities

Students seeking disability-related accommodations are required to register with DePaul's Center for Students with Disabilities (CSD) enabling them to access accommodations and support services to assist with their success. There are two office locations:
